Political Intelligence aces.—The democrate in Maine claim two of the Congressmen. Alfred W. Johnson, in the Third listrict, will contest the right to the seat against Ezra B. French; and the election of Bion Bradbury, dem., in the Sixth district, over Stephen C. Foster, is unofficially an-

and republicans in the Thirty-second district have united upon Hon. E. G. Spaulding as a candidate for Congress. WHAT HE GOVERNOR HUNT SAYS .- Washington Hunt has written a letter to a gentleman in Albany defining his preent position. He says he was honestly and earnestly in layor of a union of the anti-democratic masses, but the action of the republicans at their convention has rendered it impossible for conservative men to unite with them. AN INMUNANT MATOR.-Mayor Fish, of Waterbury, ight $50 not a remarkably comfortable salary to support a family on, and wanted it raised. The Com-mon Council raised it to $100; but the Mayor thought that sum no improvement, so the Common Council reduced it to the original $50, whereupon the Mayor resigned, and has called the people to meet on the 4th of October, to accept his resignation, and elect his successor. If the people want a $50 Mayor, he thinks they ought to have one.

Pusion in Indiana.—The Know Nothings and black re-publicans of the Third Congressional district of Indiana-have joined hands with a view to the defeat of Hon. James Hughes, who is the democratic candidate for re-election.

Wm. M. Dunn is the leader of the opposition.

WARLIER—A company of black republican "flying artillery" has been formed in Cincinnati for perpetual service during the present political campaign. Their duty, according to their programme, is to pour "hot shot" into the ranks of the democracy.

SETEMATH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.—In the Sixteenth istrict in this State the game is made up, and the three parties have spread their banners. Mr. A. B. Waido is the democratic candidate, Col. C. M. Watson, the Know Nothing nominee, and Hon. George W. Palmer, the present representative in Congress, is put forward by the black republicans for re-election.

LOOK OUT FOR SCHOOGS.-The famous Know Nothing, Gustavus Adolphus Scroggs, has succeeded in getting the union nomination for Sheriff of Erie county.

THIRD CONORESSIONAL DESTRICT OF NEW JEIGET. -The telegraph announced yesterday that Mr. William Patterson had been nominated by the republicans of the Third dis trict of New Jersey, for Congress. Mr. Patterson is a democrat, and received the nomination from a democratic convention held at Somerville. A few discontented spirits in the assembly afterwards put their heads together and nominated Hon. Garnett B. Adrian, a follower of Forney, for re-election.

JUST THE MAN FOR CONGRESS.—Bion Bradbury, about whose election to Congress from the Sixth district of Maine there is yet some doubt, in a letter to the Fortland Argus replying to some strictures on his course in the State of Maine newspaper, says:—

I pronounce the charge that the reciprocity treaty had my full support or any support from me during the administration of President Pierce, or at any other time, an unmitigated faisehood, and its author a malicious and cowardly har.

Gerrit Smith Interrogated at Rome.

The abolition candidate for Governor had a hearing in Rome on the 24th instant, and about four hundred persons listened to the exposition of Mr. Smith's peculiar During his speech he was frequently interrupted by ques-tions from the audience, to which he made prompt re-tions from the audience, to which he made prompt replies. The following are specimens:—

QUESTION.—Why have you not joined one of the leading political parties?

SMITH.—I could not consistently join any party. No man has a God given right to join one of these parties: politics, morals, religion for bid it.

QUESTION.—If tovernor, what would you do to protect the people from madmen?

SMITH.—There is too much ignorance betrayed in this consistent.

Question is a second of the design of the second of the other candidates was in favor of personal therty and probability laws?

Same—I would return if the other candidates was in favor of personal therty and probability laws?

Same—I would return if either were unexceptional in other respects and were to be believed.

Question.—Would you remove from office a judge who had decided onsolentiously, though differing from him? Same—I would not entrench on the liberty of opinion, but I would remove any judge who decided in favor of property in higher effect for sale.

Question.—How could you, as Governor, harmonize your oath of office to support the constitution with your convictions on the Fug tive Slave law?

Same—The constitution does not authorize the Fugitive Slave act.

Question.—Are you not bound to support the constitution and laws?

and laws.

Surm.—Every man is to judge for himself what is taw. I do not recognise the Fugitive Slave act as a law. Slavery is a higher crime than murder—a far greater out rage on human rights. Why, then, should we talk about slavery being law?

Quesnos—is slavery anything else than the creature of law?

Grismos—is savery anything eac than the creature of law—it's a great outrage on immunity and law—the creation of the devil. No person can get shelter behind law for slavery—may get words enacted that will soften his crime in the eyes of the people. Slavery is reduction of man from where his Maker placed him down to the category of beasts.

Queenos—bees not that provision of the constitution which declares that no person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, &c., be discharged from such service or labor, comprehend slaves f—and when a member of Congress, did you not swear to support that as well as any other provision of the constitution?

Congress?

Sarm—I served in Congress with Mr. Matteson. His life there was entirely unblemished. Never heard that he tasted intoxicating liquors, or was addicted to gambling or licentiousness. I intened to Mr. Matteson's speech against the Nebraska bitil, and it was a beautiful speech. Mr. M. was always true to the claims of freedom.

Quernon—What are your views on the common school system?

system?

Sarm—I have always been opposed to common schools. I deny that government should take into its hands the care of schools any more than that of charches or even temperance. Let government merely protect our persons and property. Wealthy men rather than have vicious children grow up about them, would educate the children of the poor. Self interest, self preservation would prompt them to do it. Private individuals support our colleges and academies, and they would our schools. The common school system is oppressive to Catholics. We are constantly clamoring against England for compelling Catholics to support our schools which are Protestant—at least in effect.

QUESTION—What are your views on the naturalization laws?

SMITH—I think that when the foreigner has been here long enough to give proof that he prefers this country to the one he has abundoned he should be invested with citizenship. I would not compel him to stay here five years, nor three, her even two years, before allowing him to vote—one year is long enough to give proof that he intends making this country has home.

QUESTION—Would you allow women to yote?

SMITH—Yes, the right of suffrage should not be confined to one sex. Woman is our equal; they have persons and property to protect as well as mon, and should therefore be entitled to a voice in the government.

QUESTION—Did you or did you not vote for the Kansas bill?

In reply, Mr. SMITH said he was the only your living or Greenes—Did you or did you not vote for the Kansas bill?

In reply, Mr. Shirm said he was the only man, living or dead, who took slavery by the horns in Congress. He made by far the most elaborate speech on Kansas. A night session in Congress was a night's debauch, and he was always opposed to it, especially as it was his custom to go to bed at nine o'clock. Nevertheless, he was present on the night of the passage of the Kansas bill till after midnight, and recorded his vote against the iniquity. Republican papers had frequently said to the contrary, and had pursued a mean, malignant and mendacious course in regard to him. Mr. Smith then proceeded to give his views on tariffs. Tariff was a cruet, iniquitous device of the rich to escape taxation and to impose burdens on the poor. The peor paid it indirectly in the purchase of sugar, &c. It violates the great ordination of Heaven—the right to buy and sell freely in all the marks of the world. He advocated the exemption from taxation, the State over, of the first $1,000.

The New Jersey Arson Case. Before Judge Ogden and Associate Judges Sandford, Cod dington and Cleveland.

SECOND DATA PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 1, 1858. The court opened at half-part nine o'clock. The accused, as on the previous days, took his sem by the side of his counsel, and the State Attorney (Mr. broodruff) called to the stand Mr. Harrison, whose cramina tion had commenced the accusate of the stand or the stand of the sta had commenced the afterneon before. This witness con-tinued his narrative of what he saw and heard on the ons of Mr. Fish; he noticed him place his hand close by the hand of his daughter, and she held up the lappel of a coat she had on, which concealed their faces from wi ness' view; they spoke together, but witness could not hear what was said; Fish then told his family to go to Squire Wallace's, as they could do no good there; witness asked Fish if he was indo no good there; witness asked Fish if he was insured? Fish replied he was happy to say he was, for $700; a day or two after the fire Fish told witness that he made a mistake—that his insurance was $500 on the house and $500 on the barn—making $800; the accused also told witness that the goats would have been burnt up too, if he had not that evening hoppelled them and turned them into the lot.

This witness was cross-examined at some length, but nothing appeared to contradict the direct testimany.

Moses tole was next sworn. The evidence of this witness corroborated that of the former witness as to the appearance of the burning; just as the house was about burnt down, Mr. Cole picked up in front of the house as small shelt, resembling a clam shell; Fish took it from him, saying that was the only one left out of all his son's shells—that he would not take five dollars for it, as all the others were burnt up.

him, saying that was the only one left out of all his son's shelfs—that he would not take five dollars for it, as all the others were burnt up.

Samuel D. Angel, sworn, testified to parting with James Reilly on that night about a mile and a quarter east of where Fish lived; he walked about a mile along the road towards the north; then saw the light of the fire; went across the lots; saw Fish taking out the chickens; did not see any fire at that time in the rooms of the house; looked into the kitchen, saw a bedstead there; thinks any one if they chose could have gone into the kitchen and removed the things; Fish did not ask witness to assist to get anything frem the house; thought Fish acted very indifferent; he did not appear to want to get the things out; did not hear him ask any one to take anything from the house; saw Fish throw water on the wood pile.

William T. Pinkney testified to being the President of the Aster Fire Insurance Company, of New York; Fish called on him after the fire and represented his loss to be upwards of $1,350 of personal property over and above the bandings, &c., and exhibited an inventory of preparty alleged to have been in the house at the time of the fire, witness did not believe it probable that Mr. Fish had the property as set forth, but from his plausibility and representing he was absolutely destitute, his family were without shelter and he wanted the money to rebuild the house, witness was induced to settle, and paid him $1,025, witness asked Fish how the fire occurred; he replied that it had been set on fire, and that he suspected an Irish pettifegger named Reilly; that on that night he (Fish) returned from a meeting with Squire Wallace; the Squire called in and he gave him a drink of old Jamaida; then lent him a lantern to go home, and that he (Fish) went to the brow of the hill, and then returned; and as he returned the light seemed to disappear from the Squire's lanter.

Levi Banta sworn—This witness corroborates the evidence of Mr. Angel.

Henry A. Wadsworth sworn—Laves about half a mile from the premises in question; was at the fire; first saw Mr. Fish and his family by the stone fence across the turn-pike, opposite the barn; they were taiking together; at that time did not see any fire inside of the house; thinks any one could have gone late the house and got out furniture, did not see Fish removing anything from the house; Fish remarked he was just as cool about it as if he was ploughing. ploughing.

At this stage of the proceedings, it being four o'clock, the court adjourned until half-post nine o'clock this (Saturday) morning.

The General Superintendent of Police.

IE. TALLMADGE CENSURED, BUT REINSTATED IN HIS OFFICE. The Board of Police Commissioners met at 2 P. M. yesterday to render a decision in the case of General fallmadge. There was a full board present. After an hour's deliberation in secret session it was decided to cen sure the General Superintendent for neglecting to proceed with a police force to the Quarantine ground on the 2d of September, to ascertain what steps were necessary to be taken to prevent any further violence by the mob, but to restore him to his office, because, on the evening of that day, the failure to send men to Quarantine was no fault of his. The Commissioners announce the following as the reasons which induced them to render this decision:

In the complaint of the Board of Police against F. A. bilmadge, General Superintendent of Police. In the complaint of the Board of Police against F. A.
Tallmadge, General Superintendent of Police,
The Board of Police having, in a preliminary investigation, directed James W. Nye, President of said Board, to present a charge and specifications against F. A. Tallmadge, General Superintendent of Police, for neglect of duty, which was done;
And the Board of Police having tried the said F. A. Tallmadge on the forecoing charge and specifications, declare

And the Board of Poince having tried the said F. A. And the Board of Folice declare the second specification to be proven, but inasmuch as the said General Superincendent had cause to believe that a formal and specific requisition for a police force would be made upon him by the Commessioners of Emigration, the custodians of said hospitals, and that awaiting such requisition until a quarter past the o'clock, P.M., he, at the histance of the Mayor of New York, was about to detail a body of policemen to Quarantine, when he was notified by the said Mayor that an adequate force of United States marines had been there ordered for the protection of the public property, and that the presence of policemen would be unnecessary, the locard of Police adjudge that the General Superintendent was not in such second specification guilty of neglect of duty; therefore,

Resolved, That the said Frederick A. Tallmadge, Esq., be, and he hereby is, restored to duty as General Superintendent of Police.

REMOVAL OF THE KEEPER OF THE CITY HALL .- James Tay or, for the past fifteen years Keeper of the City Hall, was removed yesterday by the Street Commissioner, Edward Cooper, and George W. Roome appointed to fill the vacancy. It is reported that the cause of his removal is his nismanagement in his business arrangements. Mr. Taylor Roome, though not so well known to the public, has been Roome, though not so well known to the public, has been a leading member of Tammany Society for a number of years, a very respectable and intelligent man, and one who will no doubt make a faithful public servant. He is a cooper by trade, but for the past five years has held the position of inspector in the Custom House. He was removed from office on the 1st of September last by Collecter Scheil, Mr. Roome appeared before the Mayor yesterday afternoon and gave the required security, after which he took the usual oath. He enters immediately upon his duties, though he will not remove his family to the Hall until Mr. Taylor gets moved out.

FERRY BOAT.—About nine o'clock yesterday morning Mr. James M. Jones, of Houston street, Brooklyn, while seated on the rail of the ferry beat crossing from Fulton ferry, was lift in the wrist by a pocket pistol bullet fired by a was hit in the wrist by a pecket pistol bullet fired by a follow from pier No. 30 on the New York side. Six shots were fired, the last one striking Mr. Jones, mjaring the wrist to some extent, though not abrasing the skin. The fellow was seen firing the jestol, but had left when Mr. Jones and one or two policemen got there. This dangerous practice of discharging pistols from the docks is quite common, and has already been attended with fatal consequences, the captain of a brig having died not long since from a wound inflicted by a pistol bullet discharged in the same way. It would be well to have a few examples made of those who indulge in such dangerous diversions.

Bertram House, on the heights at Fort Lee, yesterday morning, about ten minutes after two o'clock, producing about six inches through, was cut off close to the roof; thence the lightning divided into four parts, the greater portion passed off to the southwestern corner of the house, tearing out a sash in the second story, spintering and blackening the frame, ripping off boards and piercing a hole in the verandah roof, knocking off a column in its way. Thence it sought the iron chain which surrounds the building, played around it, splitting the posts to which it is fastened, and ploughed up the ground in various directions. The next shaft passed under the roofing it and out at the northeastern corner, shivering a window and frame, and knocking off a pillar of the verandah on the centern side. A small charge took off the pillar at the northeast corner. The most curious track was that made by the fourth portion, which passed through the western portion of the house at a moderate angle, and in its passage through the floer tore the officient into slips. No one was injured, although the stroke broke a pane of glass in a room where a young lady was sleeping. The bonders, splinters and fragments were carried some sixty or seventy yards from the house, and scattered in every direction. The Death of General G. Van Wassen.—The boats of about six inches through, was cut off close to the roof;

ong the distinguished strangers in the city at presen are Mayor Mayo, of Richmond, accompanied by several gentlemen of wealth and high social position in the Old Deminion. They are all disting vished for the exercise of that princely hospitality which has been a Virginian characteristic any time these two hundred years. When the Seventh regiment visited Richmon, on the 4th of July last, these gentlemen were the originat. "s of the grand reception that was given them, and in which the civil and sat, tary authorities joined with the citizens. Since Mayor Mayo and his friends have been in town they have been hospitably entertained by the officers of the Seventh regiment and by private citizens in a quiet way, and the Mayor of Richmond, according to custom, was presented to the Mayor of New York. Now, the Mayor of Richmond is a gentleman well advanced in years, and while selebrated for his benhommic has, at the same time, a due sense of the dignity of his official position, and an exact sense of the courlesies and proprieties of a gentleman—we den's say of the old school, because there is but one school of gentlemen. The Wise and Clemens Duel in Virginia.

The Wise and Clemens Duel in Virginia.

STATEMENT FROM ONE OF THE SECONDS.

RICHMOND, Sept. 18, 1858.

Having heard various rumors with reference to the difficulty between the Hen. Sherrard Clemens and O. Jennings Wise, Esq., and, conceding that justice of criticism upon the seconds in allowing the exchange of four shots, in the absence of a knowledge of facts, I deem it but proper to give the public those facts, and to allow them to decide upon whom rests the responsibility of the result.

them to decide upon whom rests the responsibility of the result.

On the 16th of September, at the request of Mr. Clemens, I delivered to Mr. O. J. Wise a challenge, which was accepted, and for arrangements I was referred to Mr. T. P. Chisman. The challenge was based upon an editorial in the Enquirer, which Mr. Clemens regarded as a deliberate insult. By arrangement the parties were to mee at or near sunrise, at the Fairfield Race Course, on Friday, the Irth, and both parties had the liberty of selecting ene outside friend in addition to a sargeon. Before the hour fixed the parties were on the field. Mr. Pryor was requested by Mr. Clemens to go with him, and consented to do no, with the understanding that he would have no connection with the matter whatever, and that he might be uneful in the event of Mr. Clemens being wounded or to effect an accommodation afth. George Ritchie was upon the field as the outside friend of Mr. Wiss, accompanied by Dr.—as surgeon. Dr.—was the surgeon of Mr. Clemens. As seen as convenient, and without any propositions of amicable adjustment by the friends of either party. the distance (ten pages) was measured by clemens. As seen as convenient, and without any propositions of amicable adjustment by the friends of either party, the distance (ten paces) was measured by the seconds and the patrols loaded. Before relearing the word to be given the principals were brought together, each exchanging the ordinary salutations. They were then put in position and weapons handed them. Mr. Irving, who had wen the word, then gave it in the usual manner, whereupon both principals fired deliberately, but without offect. Mr. Pryor then came forward, and, remarking that both gentlemen had vindicated their honor, asked if the affair could not be settled without proceeding further. Mr. Irving replied that he desired an adjustment if consistent with the honor of Mr. Clemens, and, as evidence of that feeling, he withdrew the challenge for the time. Mr. Chisman asked to see Mr. Wise, and returned with the reply from Mr. Wise that if the challenge was withdrawn, and Mr. Clemens satisfied, it was all right, and that they would leave the field, but, if withdrawn for explanation, Mr. Wise declined all explanations of his article, as he honorable optical but to demand another fire, and the seconds proceeded to load. After the second fire without effect, Mr. Irving again withdrew the challenge, and proposed to refer the whole notiter to the friends of the parties upon the field, and announced his entire readiness to abide their decision. This proposition was understood to meet the approval of both Mr. Rischier the outside friend of Mr. Wise, as also of his surgeon. It was, however, rejected by Mr. Wise, Still desirous of adjusting the matter, and, from that feeling, disregarding prometifies, Mr. Irving requested Mr. Rischie roturned, after conversing with Mr. Wise, and stated that there was none.

Mr. Irving then demanded the third fire, which was also without effect. Mr. Pryor is—

"Mesers. Wise and Clemens having met and exchange-shets three times, in our opinion their honor is entirely vindicated, and we insist that they be withdrawn from the field by their seconds."

Accordingly they were withdrawn by their respective Accordingly they were withdrawn by their respective seconds.

This proposition was understood to have received the concurrence of both Mr. Wise's surgeon and Mr. Ritchie. After its rejection Mr. Irving stated to Mr. Chienan that he withdrew Mr. Clemens from the field, and would appeal to the public; and that in so doing he intended no reflection upon him. but, as a matter of course, would be willing to assume such responsibility to others as might attach to such publication. The parties were preparing to leave the field, when Mr. Clemens, bearing the facts from his surgeon, and with the belief that the result of such publication would involve Mr. Irving in collision with Mr. Wise, came forward and protested against his withdrawal under such circumstances, and appealed to Mr. Irving to continue his services. After some conversation with Mr. Clemens, Mr. Irving agreed to continue as his friend, and the challenge was renewed.

The fourth fire being inevitable at this stage, Mr. Pryor stated in the presence of the other party, that the affair had gone far enough, and that he would not further countenance the matter by his presence, and retired from the field.

On the fourth are are both an confident no friend of thigh, and fell.

Such are the facts, which Lam confident no friend of either party will contradict. The public can decide upon whom rests the responsibility of this continued prosecution of the affair to so serious a result. Whatever the consequences, I feel the consciousness of having done everything that a gentleman could do to accommodate the matter.

They fired two rounds with pistols, both being wounded at each fire. They then, by agreement, resorted to revolvers, and continued the fight. Mr. Watters was riddled at every shat, and it is said died the next night. Dr. Nagle was so bedly wounded that his recovery is thought impossible.

ready our fall style of gentlemen's hats, and would call to it he attention of our customers and the public generally. LEARY & CO., leaders and introducers of fashion, Nos. 3, 4 and 5 Asber House, Broadway

The Gentleman who "Caps the Climax" is exceeded by our enterprising friend KNOX, who "hat the elimax" at his eatablishment, No. 212 Recontings. In other words the fall style of hais style of the now exhibited by KNOX, are all the fall style of hais ple of laste, and you see them worn by the arbiten of fashion, which is a sure inflection of their climater its beauties. They are admirably adapted to all styles of coun tenance, making the homely face appears pleasing, and adding minitable grace to the handsome profile. Without going into the cattle trade, each gent should buy a "Knox."
